Attn: Certificate of Correction Branch

Dear Sir:

Applicant requests the issuance of a Certificate of Correction to correct PTO mistakes under 37 C.F.R. §1.322.

In the amendment filed on June 5, 2006, applicant amended the Summary of the Invention section by amending:

- the fourth full paragraph on page 8, which continues over to page 9;
- the first full paragraph on page 9;
- the second full paragraph on page 9;
- the third full paragraph on page 9;

the fourth full paragraph on page 9, which continues over to page 10;
the first full paragraph on page 10; and
the second full paragraph on page 10.

The mistake is that in the patent one of the paragraphs in the Summary of the Invention section is out of order. More specifically, the text that corresponds with the amended first full paragraph on page 9 does not follow the text that corresponds with the amended fourth full paragraph on page 8, but instead follows the text that corresponds with the amended fourth full paragraph on page 9. As a result, applicant requests cancellation of the paragraph in the patent that begins at column 5, line 58 with the phrase "The optical line terminal device" and ends with "single network cable." at column 6, line 2.

In addition, applicant requests that the following text, which corresponds with the text of the amended first full paragraph on page 9, be inserted at column 5, line 11, which follows the end of the text that corresponds with the amended fourth full paragraph on page 8:

--The optical line terminal device also includes a controller that is connected to the optical transmitter and the optical receiver. The controller includes a memory to store a first identifier and a second identifier, and a processor that is connected to the memory to prepare the downstream information for the optical transmitter, and receive the upstream information from the optical receiver. The first identifier represents a first optical device that is connected to an end of a single network cable. The second identifier represents a second optical device that is to be connected to the end of the single network cable after the first optical device has been removed from the end of the single network cable.--.

INVENTOR(S): Hochbaum

It is certified that error appears in the above-identified patent and that said Letters Patent is hereby corrected as shown below:

Column 5, Line 11, insert paragraph --The optical line terminal device also includes a controller that is connected to the optical transmitter and the optical receiver. The controller includes a memory to store a first identifier and a second identifier, and a processor that is connected to the memory to prepare the downstream information for the optical transmitter, and receive the upstream information from the optical receiver. The first identifier represents a first optical device that is connected to an end of a single network cable. The second identifier represents a second optical device that is to be connected to the end of the single network cable after the first optical device has been removed from the end of the single network cable.--

Column 5, Line 58, cancel the paragraph beginning with "The optical line terminal device" through and ending with "single network cable." in Column 6, Line 2.
